

Stephouse Networks: Locally-owned broadband action.

Founded in 2002, Stephouse Networks has provided high-speed internet service, business-class wired and wireless solutions, and colocation to the Portland metro area.

We serve a great number of happy net-surfing residents to larger businesses like Google, Yahoo! and the City of Portland all from our downtown Portland headquarters.

We believe in bringing the best of broadband services and support to all of our customers.

We do so because the internet should be this easy.

STEPHOUSE PRESENTS

Bring reliable, high-speed Stephouse services to your tenants.

Why stephouse direct

draws in tenants:

- Stephouse's quality, high-speed connectivity fuels business productivity
- the internet is a mainstream tool that many tenants look for when finding a new place to work or live
- we offer industry-standard equipment and local service directly from our Portland headquarters - that's as reliable as reliable gets

Stephouse provides free installation for building owners after completion of a successful building survey, and the owner agrees to and signs a simple right of entry contract.

installation is easy:

1. call stephouse
2. we set you up
3. your building gets connected

We provide custom-built high-capacity solutions catered to your building size and tenant limits.

Our power and connectivity redundancy, through carriers like AT&T, MCI, Level 3, and Sprint, as well as direct peering with major content providers like Google and Yahoo! assure that connectivity to your building is strong and reliable.

we don't joke around

- Tier-1 connectivity
- industry-standard wi-fi, wi-MAX, and microwave solutions
- service deployment and maintenance is timely and unnoticeable

Contact Stephouse today to learn more about our services or to sign up.

Feel free to stop in our downtown office.
